

Simplify logistics and reduce shipping costs

Our IVD reagents are available in liquid or lyophilized (dry powder) format. They are shipped with dry ice in case of liquid format, or at room temperature in case of lyophilized format. Nevertheless, products shipped in liquid format carry the risk of being spoiled if they are held at customs or their delivery is delayed due to unforeseen events with courier companies. For this reason, we highly recommend the lyophilized format. Moreover, the dry powder products reduce the cost of transport as they can be shipped at room temperature and do not require dry ice.

Take a look at our portfolio and choose the best product format according to your needs. If you need any advise, please, do not hesitate to contact us.
